COAL STRIKE SITUATION SERIOUS

HOYT MAY OPPOSE KREMER IN OPENER

YANKS CONTINUE AS
FAVORITES; RIVAL
PILOTS CONFIDENT

Pittsburgh Fans Are
Hoping Kiki Cuyler
Will Play

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4.—With Babe Ruth and his slugger ball club in town, swinging bats in menacing fashion in practice at Forbes Field, hotels crowding up with visitors from nearby cities and ticket speculators operating on all sides, the bustling city of Pittsburgh was as excited today over the impending world series, which opens tomorrow, as Chicago was on the eve of the Tunney-Dempsey fight.

"Pittsburgh will take those Yanks," was the confident prediction of the home town roosters.

New York was a 6 to 5 favorite to win the series in the odds quoted by the gambling element this morning, and unless the National League partisans come to the scratch with heavier financial support in the next twenty-four hours, the Yankees will rule even stronger favorites when they take the field tomorrow.

Every train into Pittsburgh today brought more visitors eager to see the annual baseball classic. Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, the silver-haired commissioner of baseball, is here; so are scores of big league players, an army of sports writers and the usual run of sports luminaries.

Hotel rooms are unavailable, even at $15 a day. Guests are glad to sleep in hallways of the hotels, and most rooms quarter from two to six persons.

Manager Miller Huggins of the New York club and Donie Bush, the Pirates' leader, both expressed themselves as confident of victory. Huggins indicated he would use Waite Hoyt as his pitcher in the opening game and Bush said he would start either Ray Kremer, his great right hander, or Vic Aldridge.

Bush gave the impression that he would send out on to the field tomorrow the same lineup that won the pennant. This would mean that Kiki Cuyler, his great outfielder and a star of the 1925 world series, will sit on the bench and that Clyde Barnhart will hold down the left field position.

There is considerable feeling in Pittsburgh over the Cuyler matter. Many Pittsburgh fans think Bush should play Cuyler. But Bush seems to be adamant. He has been "off" this sensational performer since he was forced to fine him $50 for failing to slide to second in a game nearly two months ago.

The fans, however, are looking to the spectacular Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, to more than hold up the outfit strength of the Pirates. They think, in fact, that the Waners will hit as hard in this series as will Ruth and the other New York home run hitter, Lou Gehrig.

No series in baseball history has brought into the limelight heavier hitting clubs than the Pirates and the Yanks and great will be the disappointment if the fences of Forbes Field and the Yankee stadium are not wrecked by heavy cannonading. It is striking commentary on the equality of the two clubs' hitting that the records show that the Yanks and Pirates both ended the season with identical team batting averages of .307.

The only difference was that the Yanks, chiefly due to Ruth and Gehrig, smashed out 156 home runs as against fifty-four made by the Pirates and that New York clouted 100 triples compared with seventy-six runs up by the Pirates. Both clubs participated in 153 games, both "at bats" were identical at 5,255, but the Yankees scored 967 runs compared with 807 made by the Pirates.

Judge Landis planned this morning to hold a consultation with the umpires to go over the rules. This year there will be no temporary stands in the playing field. This will mean that pop flies will not go for two bases and that high-salaried ball players will have a chance to do their stuff in the outfield instead of watching baseballs float into the crowd.

Advance indications are that a record crowd will witness the series and that the $1,207,864 taken in at the gates last year will be surpassed providing the series runs for the full seven games as it did a year ago. The capacity of Forbes Field is 44,000 while the Yankee stadium can easily take care of 70,000.

The ticket speculators here are operating in the crowded hotel lobbies and in offices that have sprung up in all parts of the downtown section. Ordinary reserved seats were being offered at $25 while boxes, seating six persons, were quoted at $300 or $50 for a single game.

GAZETTE TO BROADCAST WORLD SERIES GAMES

Big Wireless Hook-up And Loud Speaker To Relay Story To Fans

GRAHAM M'NAMEE

The GAZETTE'S elaborate radio facilities, which brought the story of two heavyweight fights to fans this summer, will be turned on Wednesday afternoon for the opening game of the 1927 World Series between the New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Every afternoon during the series, the GAZETTE'S powerful loud speaker, which is in good listening radius of anybody in front of the Gazette Bldg., will relay the radio base ball story from a second story window of the building.

A new horn attached to the loud speaker, will allow for a greater hearing radius and clearer tone, it is believed and will be used for the first time Wednesday. The games start at 1:30 o'clock, Xenia time, each afternoon, the first two being played at Pittsburgh and the next three at New York.

Everything points to the most interesting baseball series in the history of the game. A number of things contribute to this situation, including the sensational work of Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the Yanks, the fact that the Yanks established a new winning record this season, the interest in the Waner brothers of Pittsburgh and the fact that it is the first series meeting between these teams.

Graham McNamee, king of radio announcers, will tell the story of the games from a vantage point in the stands at both parks. McNamee has that happy faculty of making his listeners see through his eyes the interesting events transpiring on the field of play.

He keeps the interest of his listeners constantly, and by word of voice, paints a vivid picture of the thrilling meeting of two great teams, fighting for the baseball supremacy of the world.

Everyone is invited to the GAZETTE'S radio World Series party and either the sidewalk in front of the building or the sidewalk across the street will prove good vantage points for hearing the games. The radio reception will be the fastest baseball service that can be furnished fans.

BUTLER CONFERENCE FAILS AS PRESIDENT REFUSES TO RUN

Attempt To Draft Coolidge Falls On Deaf Ears—District Leaders Hash Over Prospects In Back-Room Sessions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Following the first twenty-four hours of James P. Jackson, of Maryland; J. W. Tolbert, of North Carolina; George W. Bean, of Florida; former Senator of Iowa, John Harlan, of Oklahoma, and former Senator Ernest and Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky; William H. Crocker, of California, and Dr. E. B. Clements, of Missouri, are on their way along with others.

The chairman of the Republican National committee, it was rumored freely around headquarters, issued the call for the "informal meetings" now in progress here among national committeemen and other party leaders with the idea of starting a movement to draft President Coolidge for 1928 despite his "do not choose" statement. Since that call however it is understood, Butler reluctantly has reached the conclusion that Mr. Coolidge is eliminated.

With the big purpose of the "open house" thus died a-borning, the party council was disbanded into a series of backroom conferences between individuals, each feeling the other out on the subject of favorite candidates and convention cities. About the only definite conclusion that came out of the first day of lunches and dinners and assemblages seemed to be that the President meant what he said and need no longer be considered as a possible candidate next year.

General James M. Ferriera, undersecretary pro-temp, has been instructed to return to his former station as commander of the Jalisco area, in army orders received at the Sonora headquarters.

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 4.—The re-election movement which early Sunday broke out at Mexico City has failed, private advices from the Mexican capital stated today.

It was reported that three companies of repelling troops which had fled from Mexico City were overtaken and scattered by loyal forces.

Bombing planes were also reported to have done effective work in dispersing the rebels.

Although the streets of Mexico City were reportedly heavily patrolled, the city was quiet.

It was also reported that the Mexican authorities at Saltillo had discovered and suppressed a rebellion connected with the movement at Mexico City.

POLICEMAN KILLED BY SAFE CRACKER

QUINCY, Mass., Oct. 4.—Shooting his way to freedom from the rear of Phill Brother's Hardware Store early today, a safe crackerman shot and instantly killed Patrolman Alfred Hollis, 23, youngest member of the Quincy police.

The lone burglar escaped as Hollis shrieked for help. He died as a brother officer came running around from the front of the building.

YANKS FAVORITES

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The New York Yankees ruled seven to five favorites over the Pittsburgh Pirates to win the world series in the betting here today.

The Yanks were also favored to take the first game. Odds on the first meeting were routed at eleven to ten.

It was anticipated that this series will be greatest from a betting standpoint ever staged.

Money is pouring in steadily, with all wagers finding quick takers.

NELSONVILLE, O., Oct. 4.—The Lick Run Mine near here, whose manager, Don McGill, was wounded by a sniper Saturday night, will continue to load coal and increase its tonnage as rapidly as possible, using non-union labor, owners of the mine declared today.

The grand jury probably will be asked to investigate the shooting of McGill, who was shot through the leg by a steel-jacket rifle bullet.

McGill, in a Logan hospital, is rapidly recovering and hospital attendants said he probably would be able to be discharged within ten days.

GUARDSMAN SENT TO BELMONT COUNTY AS DONAHEY OBSERVER

Disorders Break Out As Commissioners Disband Guards

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 4.—Voicing belief that newspaper reports—"greatly exaggerated" the coal strike situation in Belmont County, Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson today announced that he is sending Col. Robert Haubrich, of the Ohio National Guard, to Belmont County to make a general inspection of the situation.

Decision to dispatch Colonel Haubrich to the eastern Ohio coal fields on this special mission was reached at a conference between Governor Vic Donahey and the attorney general.

Announcement was made at the governor's office, following the conference, that no action will be taken either by Donahey or Henderson, if at all, until after Colonel Haubrich makes his report covering the inspection. Preceding the conference between Governor Donahey and General Henderson, the Attorney General, it was stated, was in communication with Major Ray E. Powland, Cleveland, an Ohio National Guard "observer" for the governor.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Despite three outbreaks of violence at mines in Belmont County last night, Sheriff Hardesty today was comforted with an order, passed late last night by the county commissioners in special session, instructing him immediately to disband the force of sixty special deputy sheriffs who have been doing guard duty during the strike here.

The order was based, the commissioners declared, upon a lack of funds longer to support the guard unit, which, it was said, has been costing the county approximately $500 a day.

Three separate outbreaks of violence were reported here last night, at the same time the commissioners were in session passing the order to disband the guard.

The most important was at the Webb mine, where 1,000 men, women and children mine union sympathizers lined the road from the West Virginia border to the mine's mouth, and hurled stones and eggs at Sheriff Hardesty and four deputies, as they escorted a group of thirty non-union miners who had been recruited to join the 120 men already working in the Webb pit. No one was injured, it was reported, although the sheriff and his deputies and the non-union laborers were struck with stones and eggs.

No arrests were made, as the sheriff declared that he and his four deputies were helpless to control the mob.

Another outbreak was reported at the Provident mine, where one non-union miner was beaten by a group of men in an automobile. Two men, giving the names of Harry Bialek, and John Jabsky, were held here in County jail to day, in connection with the attack.

Deputy U. S. marshals arrested more than fifty men at the Florence mine, near here, when the latter persisted in maintaining a defiance to orders from the deputies, who declared such action was in violation of a federal injunction restraining the miners from interfering with the operation of the pit.

The union pickets were replaced, in groups of four, as fast as the deputies technically placed them under arrest by taking their names.

The union miners asserted they had a right to picket the mine, and declared they would continue to do so as long as there were four men left. The miners lined up awaiting an opportunity to take their places in the picket line, the deputies said. Early today no attempt had been made to resume the picketing however, according to reports here.

Sheriff Hardesty, commenting upon the attack upon himself and his deputies, characterized the situation as "serious, and getting rapidly out of hand." He said that more federal deputies would be welcomed.

AL BAGH SOCIETY
SETS ON MONDAY

Mrs. John Ary was elected delegate with Mrs. Maude Starke, alternate, to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society annual district meeting in Epworth Church, Dayton, Oct. 13, by Al Bagh Society, Trinity M. E. Church when society met at the home of Mrs. Minor W. Monroe, Monday evening.

Mrs. L. S. Washburn, wife of the new pastor, had charge of the decorations, and the regular business was transacted.

The annual message of the present was read, and she said, "The F. M. S. has become one of the organizations that has written our unbroken story so effectively across a whole world that the intended marker 'W. F. M. S.' is a welcome sign in every field of human need. So much real heroism has been lived into the organization's story that even an outline of its achievements would require plumes of space. The entire cause of Christian missions throughout the world is indebted beyond compare to the ministry of this great organization — the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of which Al Bagh is a part and a vital part. Every woman of the church is invited to unite with and serve with the F. M. S. in the great task of making known to the nations of the world the gospel of Our Lord and Master Jesus Christ."

Al Bagh gained nine new members the past year. Mrs. William F. Wilson gave the first chapter of the book, telling of the children of the war-torn countries across the ocean.

The society paused to pay tribute to Mrs. J. P. Chew, one of the women who inspired the society. Mrs. J. O. McCormick read from a copy of the old Semi-Weekly Gazette relating work of the society led by Mrs. Chew, when each member earned a dollar and told the story of their work in rhyme.

Mrs. Monroe was assisted by Mrs. Harriet Day, Mrs. J. A. Beatty, Miss Emma Ebright, Mrs. William Burns, Mrs. J. T. Charters, Mrs. D. E. Spahr, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanley and Mrs. J. J. Negus. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. George White, with Mrs. George Eckerle as leader.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE
AT COUNTRY CLUB

Thirty women members of the Country Club, enjoyed the hospitality of the clubhouse Monday, when the weekly luncheon-bridge was entertained.

No golf was planned for the day and the women joined at noon for luncheon, followed by cards. Mrs. James D. Adair was chairman of the hostess committee and was assisted by Mrs. J. D. Steele, Mrs. Ward M. Huston and Mrs. Leon Spahr.

Two small private parties were entertained. Mrs. William Houson Kenyon, New York City, was the only out-of-town guest.

DAUGHTER OF YELLOW SPRINGS MAYOR TO WED

Informal announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Anna Donley, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. T. A. Donley, of Yellow Springs, to Mr. William Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bolton, 937 Link Ave., Springfield. The ceremony will be solemnized October 20 at the St. Paul M. E. Church, Springfield.

The young couple will reside in Springfield, where they are both employed at the Crowell Publishing Co.

Mrs. Mary Little Dice will receive St. Agnes Guild of Christ Episcopal Church at her home, 510 N. King St., Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members are asked to bring their united thank-offering boxes.

ARMY DEPARTMENT CHIEFS WILL HELP DEDICATE WRIGHT FIELD

Elaborate preparations are being made for the formal dedication of the new Wright Field, near Fairfield, Wednesday, October 12, which will be attended by high dignitaries of the department of Brig. General W. E. Gilmore, in charge of the material division of the air service, has his headquarters at the Wright Field.

The site is near the first flying field in the world, the old tract on which the Wright brothers conducted their original experiments which later resulted in the establishment of the science of aviation and put wings on man.

The public is invited to attend the dedicatory exercises and visualize the science of aviation through the exhibit arranged for the day of the program.

A great aerial demonstration and flying circus are to be held during the afternoon by crack flyers of the U. S. air service. A feature will be the running of the Mitchell Trophy race in which pursuit planes from Selfridge Field will participate. This race was on the program in connection with the national air races at Spokane.

Field will participate in the national air races at Spokane in a new building at 235 E. Forty-ninth St.

It is a high speed event over a triangular course for a distance of 200 kilometers, approximately 170 miles. It will be open to the pursuit group of Selfridge Field.

Planes and flyers representing all fields in the United States are expected to participate.

Wright Field, comprising 5,000 acres, with the greater part in Greene County, is the largest aviation plant in the world. It has been two years in the building and final completion is still some years away. The new airport stands alone both as to size and in the far reaching research, engineering and experimental work, which

MERCY AND JUDGMENT:—I will sing of mercy and judgment unto Thee, O Lord, will I sing. Psalm 101:1.

STATES SPENDING MUCH

While Federal taxes from 1921 to 1926, were reduced $1,488,000,000, total state and local taxes increased $1,415,000,000, according to Undersecretary of the Treasury Mills.

State and local governments have followed the opposite course of that of the Federal Government spending more and more from year to year and borrowing to make up discrepancies between tax collections and expenditures.

Since 1915 Federal government cost payments have increased 144 per cent, according to Mr. Mills, while those of the states have increased 183 per cent.

To provide for increases in expenditures, higher and higher tax rates are necessary.

NOT A POLITICAL QUESTION

Both political parties seem to be trying to stir up the tariff question.

If politics could be eliminated from the tariff it would become a simple business proposition.

The tariff serves two primary purposes:

First, it prevents cheap labor foreign products, both farm and manufactured, from being dumped on the American market at the expense of the home producer.

Second, it forces the foreigner who has the privilege of selling in the best market in the world, to pay a tax to our government, thus reducing our other taxes by that amount (some $500,000,000 a year).

We do not want to shut out foreign competition, neither do we want to give it an advantage over the home producer.

Equity and fair dealing should govern in establishing tariff schedules, rather than partisan politics or favoritism for any class or product.

WATCHING OTHERS WORK

One of the stories told about Judge Gary, the late chairman of the United States Steel corporation, was that he was passing a farm which he owned, and he saw his tenant sitting on a rail fence, doing nothing.

"Can you make any money sitting there?" asked the energetic steel magnate. He no doubt argued that with all his great ability he had had to hustle for his success, so that the chances of an ordinary man who just sat and watched things go on were very poor. The amount of time spent by many men in watching someone else do things accounts for a lot of failures.

The United States is said to be in danger of attack by air, but in view of recent flights, if we get into war the enemy aviators should be encouraged to cross the ocean as fast as possible.

The college students are returning to their studies, and by Christmas they will at least known more about football.

The Way of the World

IN A HURRY

Most of us go tramping along, thinking little about the historic past. The house where President Monroe died in New York, in 1831, was sold at public auction the other day. It brought little. The American Scenic and Historic Preservation society couldn't keep it up. The hurrying present takes all our time. But those who do not give thought to the past cannot learn to judge the meaning of the present. A study of the past gives us a measuring rod.

LEST WE FORGET

The war isn't over for everybody. John Pugh lost his memory in a great battle in France. He has now regained it but he can't prove his identity. His right arm was wounded so that he has to write with his left. The government doesn't recognize his signature and he can't collect the money that is coming to him. He is hunting a sister who may tell the government who John is.

The World war did more things to more people than we stop to realize. For many the war isn't over yet. This is no time to let up on our gratitude. Let's hope every member of the Legion who is in France for the convention has the best time of his life.

STILL LEARNING

The Nordenson camera utilizes a powerful light beam which pierces the eyeball with the clearness of an X-ray. It reveals so much that it is possible to diagnose for disease by just studying the eye. Specialists say the human eye is a reflector of practically every disease. And so the X-ray was not the last word. There is no last word. Invention is never finished. The possibilities of learning are like a measureless sea.

WHAT WE'RE USED TO

A noted professor of psychology says jazz doesn't wreck our nerves. It is even soothiing, he says. Perhaps it's all a relative matter. If you had spent all day in a boiler factory, or running a locomotive, you might think even jazz restful. But if you had been listening to jazz all day you would want real music at night. Jazz music and boiler factories both furnish bad environment for the nervous system. Those who remember some of the songs of the 90's can hardly be called old-fashioned because they insist they were sweeter than the tuneless rasping of the modern day. If all new songs were as pleasant as Irving Berlin's we would suffer less. But there are few Berlins.

The prize novel, "Wild Geese," written by Martha Ostens, when 13, will be made into a movie.

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hnat, comedy team of note, will be big game hunters in their next days to shoot a picture.

I Have Said in My Heart

By IDA MCGLONE GIBSON
EYES

Most women talk about preserving their figures, their complexions, their hair or their kind disposition, but one seldom hears anyone speak about preserving the eyesight or protecting the eyes, and yet they are the most beautiful feature of the human face.

Poets have written rhapsodies "to my lady's eyes," and science has brought its entire mind to bear upon restoring sight.

The other day a news item in one of the papers stated that a brother artist was willing to give one of his eyes to a painter who had lost his sight, that he might be able to continue enriching the world with his masterpieces.

We were also told that a surgeon was going to try this experiment, as he had been able to transplant eyes into chicks.

Notwithstanding all this, the average person is more ignorant in regard to his eyes than any other part of his body, and, perhaps, with the single exception of the feet, he subjects his eyes to more unnecessary and detrimental strain than any other organ in his body.

FORMER KINGSBURY TROTTER PERFORMS WELL ALONG COAST

Betty Senkay, 2:12 1-4, once owned by Robert S. Kingsbury, Xenia, is recognized now as the new champion two-year-old trotter on California tracks, according to E. L. Churchill, sport scribe. Churchill has the following to say:

Besides being the sire of the new world's champion two-year-old trotter on a half-mile track, the Indiana owned stallion, The Senator (2:03 1-2), is the sire of another new champion on the Pacific Slope, viz, Betty Senkay (2:12 1-4), record made in a race at Sacramento, Cal.

The performance of Betty Senkay in the two-year-old trotting class at the recent California State Fair, when she trotted in 2:12 1-4 and repeated in the same notch, makes her the new champion of her age and sex on the Pacific Slope.

It will be interesting to note that the dam of Betty Senkay was the bay mare Betty K (2:14 1-4), by Binjollas (2:17 3-4), a mare that raced with success on the Ohio half-mile tracks as a three-year-old, she having been at the time owned by Robert S. Kingsbury, of Xenia, Ohio, her breeder, who sent her to Laurel Hall Farm, Indianapolis, where she was mated with The Senator (2:03 1-2), the resultant foal being Betty Senkay, which, with its dam, Mr. Kingsbury sold at the Laurel Hall dispersal sale in Lexington, Ky., during early October of 1925.

Betty K was knocked down to the Lexington horseman, Henry T. Horine, at his bid of $675, and the filly brought $545, she going to the bid of that amount placed on her by George Goddard.

The California trainer, Walter Tryon, was the real purchaser of Betty Senkay at Lexington, and after she was shipped to the Golden State she was transferred to F. J. Ruhstaller, a patron of Tryon's who calls Sacramento his home.

Betty Senkay started drilling into the training stable of the veteran California reinsman, John Quinn, who made her the new Pacific Slope champion.

HURLING IN SUNDAY GAME CUTS BATTING AVERAGE OF LOCALS

Hold to four hits in Sunday's game, Reserves' season batting average fell seven points to a mark of .329. No member of the team succeeded in bettering his hitting average.

Reserves have now won eighteen games against eight defeats this season.

CRAIG WILL PLAY IN TOURNEY FINALS

PETIT JURY HEARS SUIT FOR DAMAGES AFTER ACCIDENT

W. Crawford Craig, who led the qualifying round, having won his semi-final round match four up rather easily, will play the final between Eber Reynolds and Professor C. S. Adams, of Antioch College, for the championship of the first flight in the finals of the annual fall "scratch" golf tournament at the Xenia Country Club. The final match will be thirty-six holes.

Reynolds is favored over Adams by virtue of recently winning the annual President's Cup tournament. However, Craig is touted to win the flight championship.

S. M. McKay and Dr. T. F. Meyer will meet in the second flight of the tournament. They eliminated Philip C. Nash and David Cherry in the semi-finals.

It will be interesting to note that the dam of Betty Senkay was the bay mare Betty K (2:14 1-4), by Binjollas (2:17 3-4), a mare that raced with success on the Ohio half-mile tracks as a three-year-old, she having been at the time owned by Robert S. NEW SCOUT CABIN
IS BEING PAINTED

Painting of the new Scout cabin northwest of Cox Memorial Athletic Field will be resumed Tuesday and Wednesday nights, according to Scoutmaster R. H. Kingsbury, who is requesting members of the three local Boy Scout troops to volunteer assistance. Volunteer workers should report at 6 o'clock each evening and help out on the painting until 7:30.

It had been planned to finish the painting last week but rain interfered.

JUDGE'S DIGNITY RUFFLED
NEW YORK CITY.—Charles E. Simmons was leaving court for the day when in the hall his dignity was ruffled by stumbling over a mysterious black bag. He kicked it. "Be careful, maybe it's an infernal machine," suggested a bystander. Cautiously the bag was approached, but before it could be opened a man thrust his head in and said: "Hey, I am from the telephone company; that's my bag."

COAL STRIKE SITUATION SERIOUS

HOYT MAY OPPOSE KREMER IN OPENER

YANKS CONTINUE AS
FAVORITES; RIVAL
PILOTS CONFIDENT

Pittsburgh Fans Are
Hoping Kiki Cuyler
Will Play

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 4.—With Babe Ruth and his slugger ball club in town, swinging bats in menacing fashion in practice at Forbes Field, hotels crowding up with visitors from nearby cities and ticket speculators operating on all sides, the bustling city of Pittsburgh was as excited today over the impending world series, which opens tomorrow, as Chicago was on the eve of the Tunney-Dempsey fight.

"Pittsburgh will take those Yanks," was the confident prediction of the home town rooters.

New York was a 6 to 5 favorite to win the series in the odds quoted by the gambling element this morning, and unless the National League partisans come to the scratch with heavier financial support in the next twenty-four hours, the Yankees will rule even stronger favorites when they take the field tomorrow.

Every train into Pittsburgh today brought more visitors eager to see the annual baseball classic. Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, the silver-haired commissioner of baseball, is here; so are scores of big league players, an army of sports writers and the usual run of sports luminaries.

Hotel rooms are unavailable, even at $15 a day. Guests are glad to sleep in hallways of the hotels, and most rooms quarter from two to six persons.

Manager Miller Huggins of the New York club and Donie Bush, the Pirates' leader, both expressed themselves as confident of victory. Huggins indicated he would use Wally Hoyt as his pitcher in the opening game and Bush said he would start either Ray Kremer, his great right hander, or Vic Aldridge.

Bush gave the impression that he would send out on to the field tomorrow the same lineup that won the pennant. This would mean that Kiki Cuyler, his great outfielder and a star of the 1925 world series, will sit on the bench and that Clyde Barnhart will hold down the left field position.

There is considerable feeling in Pittsburgh over the Cuyler matter. Many Pittsburgh fans think Bush should play Cuyler. But Bush seems to be adamant. He has been "off" this sensational performer since he was forced to fine him $50 for failing to slide to second in a game nearly two months ago.

The fans, however, are looking to the spectacular Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, to more than hold up the outfield strength of the Pirates. They think, in fact, that the Waners will hit as hard in this series as will Ruth and the other New York home run hitter, Lou Gehrig.

No series in baseball history has brought into the limelight heavier hitting clubs than the Pirates and the Yanks and great will be the disappointment if the fences of Forbes Field and the Yankee stadium are not wrecked by heavy cannonading. It is striking commentary on the equality of the two clubs' hitting that the records show that the Yanks and Pirates both ended the season with identical team batting averages of .307.

The only difference was that the Yanks, chiefly due to Ruth and Gehrig, smashed out 156 home runs as against fifty-four made by the Pirates and that New York clouted 100 triples compared with seventy-six rung up by the Pirates. Both clubs participated in 153 games, both "at bats" were identical at 5,295, but the Yankees scored 967 runs compared with 807 made by the Pirates.

Judge Landis planned this morning a hearing to go over the rules. This year there will be no temporary stands in the playing field. This will mean that pop flies will not go for two bases and that high-salaried ball players will have a chance to do their stuff in the outfield instead of watching baseballs float into the crowd.

Advance indications are that a record crowd will witness the series and that the $1,207,864 taken in at the gates last year will be surpassed providing the series runs for the full seven games as it did a year ago. The capacity of Forbes Field is 44,000 while the Yankee stadium can easily take care of 70,000.

The ticket speculators here are operating in the crowded hotel lobbies and in offices that have sprung up in all parts of the downtown section. Ordinary reserved seats were being offered at $25 while boxes seating six persons, were quoted at $300 or $50 for a single game.

AL BAGH SOCIETY
EETS ON MONDAY

Mrs. John Ary was elected delegate with Mrs. Maude Starke, alternate, to the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society annual district meeting in Epworth Church, Dayton, Oct. 13, by Lal Bagh Society, which took place in Covington, Ky., in August, 1926. The couple was successful in keeping the ceremony secret, even from relatives, until recently.

Mrs. Buffington has been head nurse over at the City Hospital in Springfield. The couple will reside in this city.

The annual message of the president was read, and she said, "the F. M. S. has become one of the organizations that has written our benevolent story so effectively across a whole world that the initiated marker 'W. F. M. S.' is a welcome sign in every field of human need. So much real heroism has been lived into the organization's story that even an outline of its achievements would require columns of space. The entire cause of Christian missions throughout the world is indebted beyond compare to the ministry of this great organization — the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, of which Lal Bagh is a part and a vital part. Every woman of the church is invited to unite with and serve with the F. M. S. in the great task of making known to the nations of the world the gospel of Our Lord and Master Jesus Christ."

Lal Bagh gained nine new members the past year. Mrs. William Magee Wilson gave the first chapter of the book, telling of the children of the war-torn countries across the ocean.

The society paused to pay tribute to Mrs. J. P. Chew, one of the women who inspired the society. Mrs. J. O. McCormick read from a copy of the old Semi-Weekly Gazette relating work of the society led by Mrs. Chew, when each member earned a dollar and told the story of their work in rhyme.

Mrs. Monroe was assisted by Mrs. Harriet Day, Mrs. J. A. Beatty, Miss Emma Elbright, Mrs. William Burns, Mrs. J. T. Charters, Mrs. D. E. Spahr, Mrs. Elizabeth Hanley and Mrs. J. H. Negus. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. George White, with Mrs. George Eckerle as leader.

LUNCHEON-BRIDGE
AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Thirty women members of the Country Club, enjoyed the hospitality of the clubhouse Monday, when the weekly luncheon-bridge was entertained.

No golf was planned for the day and the women joined at noon for luncheon, followed by cards. Mrs. James D. Adair was chairman of the hostess committee and was assisted by Mrs. J. D. Steele, Mrs. Ward M. Huston and Mrs. Leon Sahr.

Two small private parties were entertained. Mrs. William Houston Kenyon, New York City, was the only out-of-town guest.

DAUGHTER OF YELLOW
BIRDS MAYER TO WED.

Informal announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Anna Donley, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. T. A. Donley of Yellow Springs, to Mr. William Bolton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bolton, 927 Link Ave., Springfield. The ceremony will be solemnized October 20 at the St. Paul M. E. Church, Springfield.

The young couple will reside in Springfield, where they are both employed at the Crowell Publishing Co.

Mrs. Mary Little Dice will receive St. Agnes Guild of Christ Episcopal Church at her home, 510 N. King St., Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members are asked to bring their united thank-offering boxes.

BIBLE THOUGHT

MERCY AND JUDGMENT—I will sing of mercy and judgment unto Thee, O Lord, will I sing. Psalm 101:1.

STATES SPENDING MUCH

While Federal taxes from 1921 to 1926, were reduced $1,483,000,000, total state and local taxes increased $1,415,000,000, according to Undersecretary of the Treasury Mills.

State and local governments have followed the opposite course of that of the Federal Government spending more and more from year to year and borrowing to make up discrepancies between tax collections and expenditures.

Since 1915 Federal government cost payments have increased 144 per cent, according to Mr. Mills, while those of the states have increased 183 per cent.

To provide for increases in expenditures, higher and higher tax rates are necessary.

NOT A POLITICAL QUESTION

Both political parties seem to be trying to stir up the tariff question.

If politics could be eliminated from the tariff it would become a simple business proposition.

The tariff serves two primary purposes:

First, it prevents cheap labor foreign products, both farm and manufactured, from being dumped on the American market at the expense of the home producer.

Second, it forces the foreigner who has the privilege of selling in the best market in the world, to pay a tax to our government, thus reducing our other taxes by that amount (some $500,000,000 a year).

We do not want to shut out foreign competition, neither do we want to give it an advantage over the home producer.

Equity and fair dealing should govern in establishing tariff schedules, rather than partisan politics or favoritism for any class or product.

WATCHING OTHERS WORK

One of the stories told about Judge Gary, the late chairman of the United States Steel corporation, was that he was passing a farm which he owned, and he saw his tenant sitting on a rail fence, doing nothing.

"Can you make any money sitting there?" asked the energetic steel magnate. He no doubt argued that with all his great ability he had had to hustle for his success, so that the chances of an ordinary man who just sat and watched things go on were very poor. The amount of time spent by many men in watching someone else do things accounts for a lot of failures.

The United States is said to be in danger of attack by air, but in view of recent flights, if we get into war the enemy aviators should be encouraged to cross the ocean as fast as possible.

The college students are returning to their studies, and by Christmas they will at least know more about football.

The Way of the World

IN A HURRY

Most of us go tramping along, thinking little about the historic past. The house where President Monroe died in New York, in 1831, was sold at public auction the other day. It brought little. The American Scenic and Historic Preservation society couldn't keep it up. The hurrying present takes all our time. But those who do not give thought to the past cannot learn to judge the meaning of the present. A study of the past gives us a measuring rod.

LEST WE FORGET

The war isn't over for everybody. John Pugh lost his memory in a great battle in France. He has now regained it but he can't prove his identity. His right arm was wounded so that he has to write with his left. The government doesn't recognize his signature and he can't collect the money that is coming to him. He is hunting a sister who may tell the government who John is.

The World war did more things to more people than we stop to realize. For many the war isn't over yet. This is no time to let up on our gratitude. Let's hope every member of the Legion who is in France for the convention has the best time of his life.

STILL LEARNING

The Nordensen camera utilizes a powerful light beam which pierces the eyeball with the clearness of an X-ray. It reveals so much that it is possible to diagnose for disease by just studying the eye. Specialists say the human eye is a reflector of practically every disease. And so the X-ray was not the last word. There is no last word. Invention is never finished. The possibilities of learning are like a measureless sea.

WHAT WE'RE USED TO

A noted professor of psychology says jazz doesn't wreck our nerves. It is even soothing, he says. Perhaps it's all a relative matter. If you had spent all day in a boiler factory, or running a locomotive, you might think even jazz restful. But if you had been listening to jazz all day you would want real music at night. Jazz music and boiler factories both furnish bad environment for the nervous system. Those who remember some of the songs of the 90's can hardly be called old-fashioned because they insist that they were sweeter than the tuneless rasping of the modern day. If all new songs were as pleasant as Irving Berlin's we would suffer less. But there are few Berlins.

The prize novel, "Wild Geese," written by Martha Ostendo when 19, will be made into a movie.

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, comedy team of note, will be big game hunters in their next, days to shoot a picture.

The Daybook
of a
New Yorker
By Burton Rascoe

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Panorama of New York.... The Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudry, Gloria Swanson's husband, having a midnight snack consisting of a chicken sandwich and tea, in the little downstairs restaurant at the Baltimore.... He is all alone and looks a trifle forlorn amidst the chattering after theatre crowds.... An Italian in full regalia tramping down Broadway with a white woman companion.... everybody stares.... Dorothy Gish at the second night of "The Command to Love," ultra-sophisticated comedy, wearing her hair in the manner of Amy March, the heroine of "Little Women." (It is strained back from her forehead and kept there by means of a circular comb....) A workman at a Fifth Avenue excavation attracting a crowd at midnight when he uses the hose attachment of an electric drill to blow the dust from his clothes.... The chauffeur of a swanky locomobile reading Life between whites, when his car is stopped by the red light in traffic.

The conveniences and inconveniences of New York apartment life cast a great light on present day marriage. In Tudor City, a group of new apartment buildings at Forty-second street and the East River, one may have a two-room apartment with facilities for refrigeration, but absolutely no provision for cooking, for $125 a month. The arrangement is significant. One provides for cocktail-making, in today's pied-à-terre, but not for the homely comforts of breakfast and dinner cooked on the premises. Of course, percolators will be used by many, and the transgression will be overlooked by the management. But for the most part, the apartments will be used as jumping off places, necessarily: there will be a good deal of quiet, serious drinking, and more not so quiet. And there will be dinner at the restaurant in the building, and no little bride's biscuits burning cheerfully in the oven. The cynic, however, may point out that these large buildings are not designed primarily for the earnest newly-married, but for the gayer birds of passage whose "love-nests" delight the editors of tabloid newspapers.

I hate: all fat women who crowd after me in an under-sized seat in the trick trains run by the New York, New Haven and Hartford, and try to make me so uncomfortable that I will move into the smoker; also all latecomers at the theatre who climb in over me and neglect to say they're sorry; people who try to read manuscript over my shoulder on the subway; elevated operators who bounce the car up and down at my floor and ghoulily yell, "watch your step," hoping that I won't; the dentist who sends me a notice every six months and, even so, finds at least nine jobs to do every time I go to see him; the mean guy at the gate in Grand Central, upper level, who will never let me through to see my friends off on western trains.

Household Hints
BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

I am including a dish that is new to me in today's menu. Creamed tuna fish is an excellent dish served with baked potatoes or over toast or crackers. This combines noodles with the tuna fish, making a complete dish. A can of noodles and one medium size can of tuna fish will serve from four to five people.

Tuna Mein—Heat one can of chow mein noodles. Pour creamed tuna fish over noodles and serve piping hot. Makes a tasty and easily prepared dish suitable for any luncheon. One can of noodles and one medium size can of tuna fish will serve from four to five people.

Pumpkin Pie—Two cups strained pumpkin (canned pumpkin may be used), one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ginger, sugar to taste, four eggs. Mix pumpkin, spice, sugar with milk, then add beaten eggs. Line deep pie tins with plain paste, fill and bake thirty or forty minutes. Squash may be used in place of pumpkin.

Hors d'oeuvres—In Europe it is more the custom than it is here to serve at the beginning of the meal some salty, tart or crisp green material to stimulate the appetite. In France these appetizers are called hors d'oeuvres. The name applies to similar relishes to be eaten during the meal. Among the relishes so called are anchovies, beet, cabbage, celery, cheese, crab flakes, hard-cooked or stuffed eggs, lettuce leaves, tiny herring, olives, radishes, etc.

Suggestions

Use Kitchen Shears.

Kitchen shears may be used satisfactorily for cutting celery, bacon rinds, lettuce, etc., or for cutting off the edges of cake that has been burned.

Use Elastic

An inset of wide elastic at the shoulder of the child's panty waist will allow them to stretch when she stoops and be the right length to fit nicely. Bloomer combinations do away with the necessity of an under-skirt and are more healthful as they hang

I Have Said in My Heart

EYES

Most women talk about preserving their figures, their complexions, their hair or their kind disposition, but one seldom hears anyone speak about preserving the eyesight or protecting the eyes, and yet they are the most beautiful feature of the human face.

Poets have written rhapsodies to my lady's eyes, and science has brought its entire mind to bear upon restoring sight.

Just the other day a news item in one of the papers stated that a brother artist was willing to give one of his eyes to a painter who had lost his sight, that he might be able to continue enriching the world with his masterpieces.

We were also told that a surgeon was going to do this experiment, as he had been to transplant eyes into the eye of a woman who had been blinded by an accident.

Notwithstanding all this, the average person is more ignorant in regard to his eyes than any other part of his body, and, perhaps, with the single exception of the feet, he subjects his eyes to more unnecessary and detrimental strain than any other organ in his body.

As you may have gathered from my recent talk, I consider mobility of mouth the first step to ward off beauty.

Lips will very easily get into "set" lines if they are not kept flexible and when that happens your chances for real charm are gone.

Deep frowning lines between the eyes give an expression of discontent, and the moment such lines appear, a woman should begin to examine closely not her eyes, but her heart, for the feelings which spring from the heart find quickest expression in the eyes.

FORMER KINGSBURY TROTTER PERFORMS WELL ALONG COAST

Betty Senkay, 2:12 1-4, once owned by Robert S. Kingsbury, Xenia, is recognized now as the new champion two-year-old trotter on California tracks, according to E. L. Churchill, sport scribe. Churchill has the following to say:

Besides being the site of the new world's champion two-year-old trotter on a half-mile track, the Indiana owned stallion, The Senator (2:03 1-2), is the site of another new champion on the Pacific Slope, viz. Betty Senkay (2:12 1-4), record made in a race at Sacramento, Cal.

The performance of Betty Senkay in the two-year-old trotting class at the recent California State Fair, when she trotted in 2:12 1-4 and repeated in the same notch, makes her the new champion of her age and sex on the Pacific Slope.

It will be interesting to note that the dam of Betty Senkay was the bay mare, Betty K (2:14 1-4), by Binjolla (2:17 3-4), a mare that raced with success on the Ohio half-mile tracks as a three-year-old, she having been at the time owned by Robert S. Kingsbury, of Xenia, Ohio, her breeder, who sent her to Laurel Hall Farm, Indianapolis, where she was mated with The Senator (2:03 1-2), the resultant foal being Betty Senkay, which, with its dam, Mr. Kingsbury sold at the Laurel Hall dispersal sale in Lexington, Ky., during early October of 1925.

Betty K was knocked down to the Lexington horseman, Henry T. Horne, at his bid of $675, and the filly brought $545, she going to the bid of that amount placed on her by George Goddard.

The California trainer, Walter Tryon, was the real purchaser of Betty Senkay at Lexington, and after she was shipped to the Golden State she was transferred to F. J. Ruhstaller, a patron of Tryon's who calls Sacramento his home.

Betty Senkay later drifted into the training stable of the veteran California reinsman, John Quinn, who made her the new Pacific Slope champion.

CRAIG WILL PLAY IN TOURNAMENT FINALS

W. Crawford Craig, who led the qualifying round, having won his semi-final round match four up rather easily, will play the winner in the final of the three flights in the finals of the annual fall "scratch" golf tournament at the Xenia Country Club. The final match will be thirty-six holes.

Reynolds is favored over Adams by virtue of recently winning the annual President's Cup tournament. However, Craig is touted to win the flight championship.

S. M. McKay and Dr. T. F. Meyer will meet in the finals for the championship of the second flight of the tournament. They eliminated Philip C. Nash and David Cherry in the semi-finals.

NEW SCOUT CABIN IS BEING PAINTED

Painting of the new Scout cabin northwestern of Cox Memorial Athletic Field will be resumed Tuesday and Wednesday nights, according to Scoutmaster R. H. Kingsbury, who is requesting members of the three local Boy Scout troops to volunteer assistance. Volunteer workers should report at 6 o'clock each evening and help out on the painting until 7:30.

It had been planned to finish the painting last week but rain interfered.

JUDGE'S DIGNITY RUFFLED

NEW YORK CITY.—Judge Charles E. Simmons was leaving court for the day when in the hall his dignity was ruffled by stumbling over a mysterious black bag. He kicked it. "Be careful, maybe it's an internal machine," suggested a bystander. Cautiously the bag was approached, but before it could be opened a man thrust his head in and said: "Hey, I am from the telephone company; that's my bag."

PETIT JURY HEARS SUIT FOR DAMAGES AFTER ACCIDENT

Petit jury convened in Common Pleas Court for the October term Tuesday morning to hear evidence in the trial of the first of three damages suits, filed against Frank Wilson, as a result of an auto accident one-half mile west of Bellbrook, August 4 at 9 p.m.

Plaintiffs in the three actions, who ask damages aggregating $1,665, are Harry Watson, his wife, Prudence M., and their son, Harry, Jr., by his father and next best friend.

Jury trial of the suit of Prudence M. Watson against Wilson, seeking $1,000 damages, and charging Wilson with driving carelessly, opened Tuesday.

It is charged that the defendant did not exercise due caution in approaching the car occupied by the plaintiff; that he turned off all his lights except the small parking lights, so that occupants of the Watsons were unable to see the automobile approaching; and that Wilson was driving on the wrong side of the road.

Mrs. Wilson and her son were seriously cut about the face, disfiguring them for life, it is claimed.

In the two damage suits still pending against Wilson, the father asks $500 damages for injuries sustained by his son, $150 for damage to his auto and $15 for medical expense.

L. T. and J. C. Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff. Attorney F. L. Johnson represents the defendant.

RECEIVES FINE AND SENTENCE IN COURT

Pleading guilty to a charge of non-support, Eugene Dugdowen, 45, colored, formerly of Xenia, was fined $10 and costs, taxed at $12.39, and sentenced to serve six months in the County Jail by Probate Judge S. C. Wright Monday afternoon.

Dugdowen was arrested at Milford, O., last Friday by Probation Officer J. E. Watts, who returned him to Xenia. It is claimed that he fell behind about $150 in the support of his family.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—French buckeyes, picked up in the gardens of the Elysee Palace, official home of presidents of the French Republic, are being taken home by Ohio Legionnaires to be compared with the home variety. Ohio Legionnaires were pleased to note good old buckeye trees growing not only in the Elysee Gardens but also on the estate of Marshall Ferdinand Foch.

SUNLIGHT WARNING

We are talking very much about the manifold and strikingly beneficial effects of sunlight. It may be interesting to you to know that some individuals have what is known as an idiosyncrasy to the sun's rays, especially in the summer. In these people, the chemical rays of the sun cause an eruption of the eczematous or hives type. It is believed that this susceptibility is an inherited characteristic.

It is perfectly normal for some to freckle and others to sunburn on exposure to the sun, but this inflammation is entirely different.

Do you know that buckwheat may cause certain individuals to develop a sensitiveness of the skin to the sun's rays, and these persons develop what is known as buckwheat poisoning? It is primarily a disease of animals, but it may occur in man.

Now don't forego sunlight treatments for yourself and children because of what I have told you.

There are not many who have this sensitiveness. And you'll know it if you have it. Women will notice it most frequently on the neck when the sunlight strikes it.

JOHN MOORE, New York business man, goes to Tucson, Ariz., on business, expecting to return to New York the next day. He meets a college associate, Philip Morton, who has business in Mexico. Both drink heavily to tequila and in the subsequent mixup in identity Moore finds himself in Mexico.

"You mean," said the girl, suddenly grasping all that his statement implied, "That Mr. Morton is the same kind of a man—really—as Rodriguez is?"

John Moore made no reply.

"What if he had come?" breathed the girl.

"But he did not!" said John firmly.

"I came. And I am going to stick around! Come on, let's finish our stunts. I am twenty tamales down and twenty to go and I can beat you in a walkaway!"

Before the dinner was well under way it had become apparent that Morton was the life of the party. He was genial, more so with each succeeding glass of tequila. And he was talkative; he became even garrulous. He shone by contrast. No one else at the table was either this serious, or this talkative.

Manuel Lopez probably meant to be the latter when he flashed a smile gleaming with teeth up and down the face, "I am the life of the party," he said.

"The girl shook her head and her laughter ceased abruptly. "Be careful," she warned. "They may be watching us from the dining room door. You don't seem to realize that this is serious, Mr. Moore. I had forgotten it for a few hours. But now it has all come back—and, you see, I am afraid." She caught her lower lip beneath her teeth and broke off her sentence.

"Listen!" said John Moore. "You are not to be afraid! Serious—I have never been as serious in all my life as I have been since I met you this morning. Do you think I am going to let anything in the world hurt you? Well! I'm not!"

"Rodriguez is a bad one—I'll grant you that. But forewarned is forearmed. We'll watch out for him. We'll find out what he has on your uncle before Morton can get here."

THE GUMPS

The Theater

During his visit in Berlin, F. W. Murnau, German director in this country, discussed with Max Reinhardt, master of theater art, the needs of the stage and screen. Their conversations are interesting to all motion picture devotees. "We concluded," says Murnau, "that for the good of the screen, it should be completely divorced from stage. Stage productions should longer be worked over into plays. A career in the theater should not be regarded as the foremost recommendation for an actor desiring to enter filmdom. We not appreciate sufficiently, continues the director, "that stage busi-

The movie exhibitor had just insured his theater against fire. As he signed his name he turned to the insurance agent and asked:

"What would I get if my theater was to burn down tomorrow?"

"Oh, I should say about 10 years," replied the insurance man, nonchalantly.

SHE AGREES!

The bride party was at the altar. The small flower girl was the adoring niece of the bride. All her life she had tagged Aunt Frances.

The minister, reading the service, asked: "Do you take this man to be your wedded husband?"

"I do," said the bride.

"I do, too, Aunt Frances," piped up the small flower girl, loyally.

You've seen him a hundred times, but we'll bet you'll never recognize him. He's Wesley Barry, former kid hero of films. Wesley's freckles have all vanished.

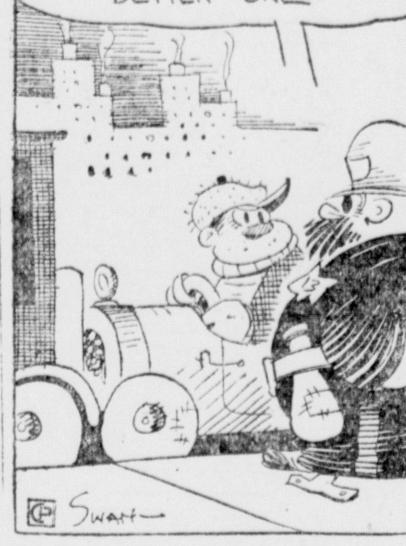

... loses its value before the camera. In motion pictures both actress and carriage are more important than words.

Eve and her Garden of Eden are presented by Leatrice Joy in her new feature, "The Angel of Broadway." Three women controlled the destiny of this DeMille production, more J. Coffey, the author, Lois Weber, the director and Leatrice Joy, the star. But the Tired Business Man will reap the result of their labors.

The amusing Anita Loos story, "Publicity Madness" featuring Lois Moran and Edmund Lowe will be released soon by Fox Films. Rudolph Menjou, after the completion of his current Paramount picture, "Serenade," will start work on "The Beauty Doctor." Florence Vidor has completed work on her next, "Honeymoon Honeymoon."

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. CHARLES HARNISCH

Mrs. Mary Harnisch, 68, wife of Charles E. Harnisch, Spring Valley, formerly of Xenia, died in St. Francis Hospital, Columbus, at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Death was the result of a paralytic stroke, suffered five weeks ago. Mrs. Harnisch had been in ill health for almost twelve years but had been removed to the hospital only four days ago.

She was born in Corydon, Ind., and came to Ohio in 1884 following her marriage, December 12, 1883.

Mr. Harnisch was formerly proprietor of a bakery on W. Main St. in this city. They had lived in Spring Valley for the last ten years, and formerly lived in Xenia for twenty years. Prior to their residence in this city, they lived in Columbus for about twelve years.

Mrs. Harnisch is survived by one sister, Mrs. Sally Howard, and one brother, Frank, both of Xenia, Ind.

Funeral services will be held at the Ralph M. Neeld funeral parlors at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment will be made in the Spring Valley Cemetery.

MINERS INJURED

MRS. HANNAH ROSE CLAIMED BY DEATH

FORMER RESIDENT OF COUNTY IS DEAD

Mrs. Hannah M. Rose, 78, widow of Dr. F. W. Rose, who practised at Port William and later at Jamestown, died at the home of her son, E. J. Rose, in Wilmington, Sunday morning at 1:30 o'clock. Death followed an invalidism of ten years.

Mrs. Rose made her home with her son in Wilmington the last five years. Dr. Rose died several years ago. Mrs. Rose was a member of the Eastern Star Lodge at Jamestown.

Surviving are three sons, E. J. Rose and Raymond Rose, of Wilmington, and Harry Rose of Flint, Mich., and two half-brothers, Daniel Taylor, Ashville and Henry Taylor, Pomeroy City, Okla.

Funeral services were held at the son's residence in Wilmington Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of the Rev. O. Herschell Folger, and burial was made in Jamestown Cemetery.

APPROVE CHANGES IN HIGHWAY PLANS

County Commissioners have approved a number of minor changes and revisions in connection with the assessment of property owners affected by the improvement of Inter-County Highway, No. 195, sections F, G and H, it is announced.

Modifications, and in several instances, reductions, have been ordered in connection with assessments as tentatively filed with commissioners by County Surveyor W. J. Davis.
